Returning from School. Returning from School.

ANAHEIM, May 29th.—A youth named Marion, living at Garden Grove, was bitten on the leg by a rattlesnake this afternoon while going home from school. A companion named Dunn immediately sucked the wound. Marion was given liquor and a messenger dispatched here for a physician. At last accounts Marion was in a precarious condition and unconscious. His recovery is doubtful. The snake was not captured. This is the second snake-bite in this neighborhood. Some months ago a large rattler bit a boy near the same place, and death resulted in a few hours.

Mrs. W. J. Hill, an old and respected lady living here, dropped dead Monday morning from apoplexy. The burial took place yesterday. The funeral was largely attended.

Peter Jackson and Parson Davis lent importance to the occasion by their presence.

Hiram Cook acted as referee, and the men got to work at 9 o'clock. Fitzsimmons' great reach gave him every advantage, and though McCarthy forced the fight he received a hard smash on the jaw and in the third round was bleeding profusely from a bad cut over the eye. THE SCOTCH - IRISH CONGRESS. And Floods Thirteen Thousand Acres

Stockton, May 29th.—A break 300 feet broad occurred in the levee of the lower division of Roberts' Island at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the workmen are powerless to stop it. The whole division of the island will be flooded, comprising 13,000 acres, all under a high state of cultivation. Efforts will be made to have the levee which separates the middle from the lower division ready to stand the onslaught of water. Two big dredgers and a force of 200 men have been employed constantly in watching and repairing the small breaks in the levee. The Union Island levees are still intact, and the break in Roberts' Island will help Union Island considerably by starting the current in the other direction. Roberts' Island is owned by the Glasgow-California Land Company, who rent it out to small holders, many being Chinamen. ISPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.

MEMORIAL DAY VERSES.

Our hearts we hush, our heads we bow, At Freedom's holv altar now; Above the dust of sacrifice, We bend to-day with weeping eyes And hallow with each hallowed tear The sacred incense offered here. Let Love and Duty walk to-day Along the still and sacred way, And bear sweet blossoms Love has lent; Let breath of bloom be sweetly blent With breath of patriot's vow to God, As on we walk with feet unshod; That long as Love can weep and sing Our tender tribute we will bring: As long as Faith its life can keep We'll guard the trust of those who sleep; And long as God can hear our cries We'll shield the dust of sacrifice.

Blow soft, ye balmy breeze of spring, Swing low, ye warblers on the wing. The kiss of sunbeams we entreat, The dew's caress, as nectar sweet.

Above the mounds on blood-drenched plain Above the graves where lie the slain We, too, will bend in rev'rent love Each soldier dust and bed above; With willing hands our offering strew Alike o'er friend and foe,
Believing each to conscience true—
Tne boys in gray, as well as blue.

One brother fought beneath the stars; The other battled for the bars The land that gave them both their birth, And saw their strife succeed to mirth. Now gives them peaceful sepulcher, And guards alike with tenderest care The memory of her warring sons. O'er fields that heard the roar of guns Sounds martial music, solemn, slow, As columned thousands reverent go As could need thousands reverent go To where the silent squadrons keep The bivouac of eternal sleep. No more shall fall on blue or gray The leaden hall of yesterday. But tender flowers shall fall instead. To grace the graves where rest our dead.

HARRISON AT CLEVELAND

Confessed His Guilt.

Peoria, May 29th,—A sensation has been created here by the arrest of John Spellman, oldest son of Edward Spellman, an Irish American who became quite widely known during the Cronin trial, at which he was a witness. During the past two months a series of burglaries have been committed in this city, and the police have been absolutely unable to obtain a clue to the perpetrator. Nothing but money was taken in each case. Last night a policeman discovered a man working on a safe in a large wholesale house, and succeeded in effecting his arrest. It was young Spellman. He has coulessed that he was the perpetrator of all the recent burglaries.

Memory Yesterday. RICHMOND (Va.), May 29th.—This was a gala day in Ricamond, the occasion being the un-veiling of the monument to General Robert E. Lee. The city was crowded with visitors, and Lee. The city was crowded with visitors, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

As the various commands reached their starting points with some familiar officer at its head, cheer after cheer rent the air. The Chief Marshal, General Fitzhugh Lee, and Generals Early, Johnston and Longstreet, received similar ovations as they moved about from place to place. The procession started promptly at noon, and was composed of representatives of nearly all the old Confederate regiments in the South.

The line of march was densely crowded. As the old chieftains of the Confederacy were recognized hats came off, and the old yell came from a thousand throats.

Arriving at the statue, and the distinguished guests being seated, Governor McKinney called the assemblage to order. After prayer General guests being seated, Governor McKinney called the assemblage to order. After prayer General Early was presented as the Chairman of the meeting. He introduced Colonel Anderson as the orator of the day.

Colonel Anderson's address was an eloquent one, in which, while abating no jot of love and admiration for Lee, so couched it in words as not to jar upon the sensibilities of the most ardent Unionists. He began with the statement that the people are known by their monuments, and by that record the world always gave its most devoted admiration to warriors. He sketched in a masterly way the transcendent qualities necessarily united in a great General, making such estimate by the world just. Lee, however, was not mere one of the greatest captains, but a man of absolute unblemished Christian life. It was a singular felicity of Virginia ian life. It was a singular felicity of Virgini tian life. It was a singular felicity of Virginia to have produced two great, stainless military leaders—Washington and Lee.

The orator gave an elaborate biographical review of the General's life; dwelt upon the painful struggle which it cost him to decide whether to give his allegiance to the nation or his native State; finally, in the face of ambitious temptings, in the face of the offer of the command of the Union army, he decided that duty called him to stand by Virginia. The speaker then sketched Lee's campaigns in illustration of his military genius, touched upon the moderation and good sense of the North at the close of the struggle and its happy results; spoke of Lee's subsequent quiet, dignified hie and closed with a brilliant peroration.

Colonel Anderson's address aroused great enthusiasm. thusiasm General Joseph E. Johnston then unveiled the statue amid the shouts and booming of cannot MICHEL EYRAUD.

He is Closely Guarded in His Prison Celli

Celli

HAVANA, May 29th.—Michel Eyraud, the murderer, is confined in the Tafatura de Polica, one of the strongest prisons of Havana. His cell is very simply furnished, with a cot in the center and a seat in one corner. The prisoner spends most of his time lying on the bed or sitting on its edge. His dress consists of a shirt, a pair of white trousers and a straw hat, which he never takes off. Two guards are atways by him at each end of the bed. They wear no arms for fear that Eyraud might profit by a moment of inattention and take a weapon from them and kill himself. Outside the cell stands another guard with a gun and bayonet.

There is nothing within Eyraud's reach with which he could take his life. Eyraud's behavior has not varied since his errest. He is very discreet and answers simply whatever questions are put to him, and is evidently anxious to avoid prolonged conversations with his keepers. He affects to be resigned to the fate which awaits him.

When arriaigned for examination he admitted to the magistrate that he had tried to kill himself by opening the veios in his arms and legs.

THE DAY.

This is the day set apart for showing respect by simple ceremonial to the memory of American citizens, who, in the hour of the Nation's need, offered their services and pledged their lives for the defense of free institutions. That the war in which these men served the Union was an internicine struggle, that it was a bloody conof the soldiers of the Union all the more noble. They had not only to give up home, loves and friends to do battle for the flag and all of which it is typical, but they were called upon to do violence to the natural regard men have for their fellow countrymen. At noon a repast was spread under the majestic oaks, and all hands did justice to that which delights the palate and appeases the hunger. Races and games were had, in which much enthusiasm was displayed. The feature of the day, however, was the ball game between the "Tanquary Tumbleheels" and the "Floberg Flapjacks," the nines being made up of both sexes. Notwithstanding that the decisions of the umpire, genial John Lafferty, were suspiciously and sympathetically in favor of the Tumbleheels, the Flapjacks carried off the honors of the day, by a score of 26 to 5, no difficulty whatever in identifying the men so soon as they met them. Between 2 and 5 o'clcck, yesterday afternoon, Master Freddie Jobson was given a lawn party by his mother, at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Senator Cox, at Twentieth and T streets. The beautiful lawn was tastefully decorated, and the little guests spent three solid hours romping about and enjoying themselves. An elegant repast was served, and altogether the affair was one to be remembered when the affair was one to be remembered by the little ones. Before departing each guest was presented with a souvenir of the occasion, in the shape of a little parasol or a watch. It was Master Jobson's fifth birthday. BELOW ARE A FEW TESTIMONIALS FROM parties who are using the MATHUSHEK and re competent to speak of its merits: [From the Eminent Pianist, Shonert.] SACEAMENTO, March 27, 1890. JOHN F. COOPER-Dear Sir: I had occasio JOHN F. COOPER—Dear SIT: I had occasion this evening at grand concert of the great cornetist, Jules Levy, in the Metropolitan Theater, to try and to carefully test your MATHUSHEK piano, and I am happy to be able to congratulate you upon the actual high state of perfection these splendid pianos have reached.

EDWIN M. SHONERT.

SACRAMENTO, April 25, 1890.

MR. JOHN F. COOPER—Dear Sir: The MATHUSHEK upright piano I purchased from you some time since only convinces me that my judgment of its merits were correct. I believe the solid from frame MATHUSHEK upright the best for California climate, and I heartily recommend the MATHUSHEK to anyone wanting a strictly first-class plano. T. H. BERKEY.

The following is a letter from Mrs. Geo. Stoneman, wife of Hon. Geo. Stoneman, ex-Governor of the State of California:

GRAND AVE, Los ANGELES, California, August 13th, 1889.

MR. COOPER: Your letter received this morning, and I am happy to oblige you by testifying to the excellence of the MATHUSHEK grand, sold me some four years ago. It has been in constant use, and I think instead of deteriorating and becoming thin, it has softened and deepened in tone. It required a little tuning during the first year. I have frequently recommended the piano, and consider that its merits are equal to those of the best in the United States.

The singing quality of this piano is particularly suited for vocalists, and while agreeable in a small room, it can, by its brilliancy and power fill a large auditorium effectively. Yours, etc. MRS. GEO. STONEMAN. SACRAMENTO, April 25, 1830.

Mr. Cooper—Dear Sir: If all your pianos turn out as superior as mine, I begin to understand why they are taking the lead of all others. I did not buy my piano in a hurry, but as a teacher of music I had a daily opportunity of testing the different makes for years before I purchased. I am delighted with my MATHUSHEK, and I recommend it.

MRS. F. A. LYON.

Simple Justice--Correction of a Slander, [From the Daily Bee.]

This is to certify that we exchanged the upright plano we had with Mr. John F. Cooper for one of his new style J. MATHUSHEK upright planos. The reason we did so was because in the upright we had all the tuning plus had pulled down against the thin iron plates, which gave a thin, harsh, tin-panny sound which could not be remedied. Mr. Cooper now has the plano, in exactly the same condition it was when it left our house, statements to the contrary notwithstanding by the agent of another plano, whose instrument is made similar to our first plano.

W.S. DAVIS. [From the Daily Bee.]

The open-air concert, which was to have been given at the Plaza last evening, was postponed by the committee, as it was thought the evening would be too chilly for comfort. Yesterday a large number of citizens called on Chairman Martine and requested that the concert be put off until next week, and accordingly it was post-poned until next Monday evening. This will be an advantage, the band being given more time for rehearsal.

The National Republican Committee-Subsidized Railroads-Matters in Congress.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

THE TARIFF BILL. The Senate Finance Committee Considering Its Provisions.

TON, May 29th.-The Senate Finance Committee this morning took up the tariff bil Committee this morning took up the tariff bill and considered it by paragraphs, subject to subsequent action. The chemical schedule was first taken up. It was decided first not to recommend free alcohol in the arts, as that question affected many other items in the schedule. After the morning was over, thirty-e'ght items, thirteen of the most important being passed without action, the noon hour having arrived, the question of future meetings was broached. Senator Sherman suggested daily se sions of ten hours each, in order to carry matters through. hours each, in order to carry matters through.
This met opposition from both sides. Carlisie and Voorhees said it was a waste of time, as matters must be discussed in the Senate any-

Voorhees thought the Republicans could agree on the bill, and the Democrats, if the, thought best, could present a minority report.

Hiscock, Jones and Morrill spoke in a similar Hiscock moved that a sub committee on each side be appointed to prepare such schedules as would be advocated by its party on the floor of the Senaie, that each side submits its schedule to the other as soon as prepared. Adopted.

No change was made as to the question of giving oral hearings. The other proposed in the beauties. No change was made as to the question of giving oral hearings. The changes made in the chemical schedule to day were all reductions. They were proposed by Republicans, supported by a solid Democratic vote and the vote of the member making the motion. None of them are of any significance.

The committee will grant a hearing to representatives of importers Tuesday.
The Democratic members will not formulate a bill, but will express their views in the report.

CONGRESSIONAL. IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 29th .- When the Senat met to-day, stewart, rising to a question of per sonal privilege, had read an article from a loca paper containing a statement made by Major Powell, Director of the Geological Survey, in reference to stewart's recent resolution, in which Fowell spoke of the movement as insti-gated by land sharss and specula ors, for the purpose of "gobbling up irrigable lands and es-tablishing a sort of hydraulie feudal system." Stewart sketched an outline of what had bee done in the work of stimulating irrigation in the Far West recently, with the appropriations. Powell, he said, had used more than half the appropriation in vast and expensive surveys of appropriation in vast and expensive surveys of no practical use for the object in view, and intimated that Powell had an enormous power in both Houses from his giving employment to a lot of young men, sons and relatives of members of Congress, and that he kept an enormous lobby in Washington to control the action of Congress. The Bureau of Geology and Mineralogy was nothing, Siewart said, but a mass of humbug and foolishness.

Gorman defend d Major Powell as a valuable public officer, who discharged his duty faithfully.

Teller introduced a joint resolution setting. Teher introduced a joint resolution setting forth a determined policy of the United States Government to use both gold and silver as full legal tender money under the ratio now exist ing in the United States, or which may here after be established by the United States alone or acting in accord with other nations. Laid on the table and ordered printed.

The imported liquor bill was then taken up, the question being on the following substitute offered by Gray to the substitute from the Judiciary Committee: "That fermented, distilled or other intoxicating liquors transferred as an article of commerce or brought into any State article of commerce or brought into any State or Territory from a point or place outside of such State or Territory for use or consumption or sale therein shall not be exempt, nor shall the owner or person in possession thereof be exempt from the operation of the laws or regulations of the police or taxing power of such state or Territory affecting or applicable to all other like property by reason of such liquors being in original packages of importation or Gray's amendment was agreed to—ayes 26 Nest moved to amend the substitute by making it apply to fresh beef, veal, mutton, lamb and pork, and argued that if the bill was to be-come a law it should not be confined to intoxi-cating liquors. This was the first time he knew t the Supreme Court being the suggester o remedies. The proposed law would produce chaos, but if he were wrong in his position and the friends of the bill were right, then he wanted to give the cattle-raisers of the West the same privileges granted the lowa Legislature in the exclusion of alcoholic stimulants. He had served on the Senate committee in relation to the beef business, and found an alarming state of things in his inspection of beef cattle.

The vote on Vest's amendment was, yeas 5, nays 32, the yeas being Call, Morgan, Payne, Stewart and Vest.

Wilson of lowa offered a substitute for Gray' wilson of lowa oldered a substitute for Gray's amendment, providing that liquors transported into any State or Territory for use by consumption or sale (or storage) shall on their arrival be subject to the operation and effect of the laws of such State or Territory, and shall not be exempt thereform by reason of their being introduced in original packages. exempt therefr m by reason of their being introduced in original packages.
Wilson's substitute was adopted—23 to 20.
The bill then passed—34 to 10.
Vorhees moved to amend the bill by making it read: "A bill to overrule the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in its interpretation and construction of the Constitution on the subjet of commerce between the several States," and thereby relieve the State of lowa from the consequences of her own misguided legislation. Rejected.

The title was then amended, on motion of legislation. Rejected.

The title was then amended, on motion of Wilson of Iowa, to read: "A bill to limit the effect and regulations of commerce between the several States and with foreign countries in certain cases." The river and harbor bill was received from the House and referred to a committee, and the Senate adjourned until Monday. IN THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, May 29th.—In the House to day the Committee on Public Lands reported back the Senate bill (with amendments) for the gen-eral forfeiture of the land grant. It was ordered The cenate bid was passed for the relief o The senate bill was passed for the relief of the widow of Rear-Admiral David McDougal.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the public building bills.

The following public building bills were laid aside favorably: Stockton, Cal., $75.000; Pueblo, Col., $150.000; Portland, Oregon, $400,000.

There was a lively tilt on the question of public building bills, brought out by the bill for a public building at Bar Harbor, Maine, at a cost of $75.000. Mins had, asked what the direction of the committee was, and Milliken replied that two Republican bills would be called up and then one Democratic bill.

Mills thought this was unfair, and that the committee should alternate between the two sides. Allen declared the whole system was vicious

WASHINGTON, May 29th.—United States Consul James Viosca, at Lapaz, Mexico, in a letter dated April 21st, reports the arrival of the steamer City of Sydney at Mazatian on the 18th of April with 122 Chinese destined for various gulf ports in Mexico. Twenty-seven landed at Mazatian and eighty-five trans-shipped at Alciandro for Guaymas. From authentic information received from the officers at Alejandre, Viosca says no doubt the Chinese going to Guaymas are going with the intention of being in troduced into the United States. A number of them speak English, having resided in Australia.

Its effect is best told in a subsequent letter, from which we quote the following: - which we quote the following:—

"I suppose you know me by this writing, and my circumstances and condition. Although improving, I ask of your generosity for another bottle of your Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Its laxative action is perfection itself. It has so thoroughly regulated my system that my catarrh, rheumatism, constipation, and headaches are all better. I feel ashamed to ask in this way, but what shall I do? I thought I might not need any more, but I am now so anxious to keep it up; but you see how it is." Youthful Indiscretions, Lost Manhood.

Be Your Own Physician! Many men, from the effects of youthful imprudence, have brought about a state of weakness that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of the rouble scarcely ever being suspected, they are doctored for everything but the right me. Notwithstanding the many valuable emedies that medical science has produced or the relief of this class of patients, none of the ordinary modes of treatment effects a ure. During our extensive college and hostial practice we have experimented with ad discovered new and concentrated remess. The accompanying prescription is of red as a certain and speedy cure, as undreds of cases in our practice have been stored to perfect health by its use after nundreds of cases in our practice have been restored to perfect health by its use after all other remedies failed. Perfectly pure in-gredients must be used in the preparation of 3 prescription.
